Draft statement for NSC on Latin America

Here is the rearranged and slightly redrafted paper on Latin America which you requested me to do over.

I think that when it is redrafted in your office it might be advisable to give fuller treatment to the OAS and possibly to cite at greater length and perhaps in greater number the policy problems briefly mentioned in paragraph 40.

The greater part of the section called "Courses of Action" is taken almost verbatim from the original ARA draft. I think the section should be redone in ARA and that it should address itself to such matters as Peron, communism and nationalism.
